GETAWAY DAY AT. THE FAIR GROUNDS.

Good Crowds and the Victory of Two Favorites Marked the End of Local Racing Season.

PEACEFUL WON THE SECOND.

The Gelding Easily Defeated Lady Strathmore and Good Field-Kisme and South Breeze Mediums of Plunges.

Getsway day at the Fair Grounds yesterday was characterized by rainy weather and by the victory of two good things at rather short prices, both South Breeze and Kisme being heavily played and both landing the money. Two favorites at liberal odds won, so the day was not a had one from a speculative point of view. Peaceful, selected by The Republic to win he second event over Lady Strathmore, easily captured the long end of the purse at the good price of 2 to 1. The son of St. Fiorian ran in good style and was never hard pressed at any stage of the journey, winning in clever fashion.

As was the case in every race of the afternoon, long shots were played on suspicion by the crowd, and Marie Tryon, at lengthy odds, was quite heavily backod—in the second event. The filly raised the hopes of her backers by running along in the lead for the first half mile, only to collapse in the stretch and finish last.

Great interest was taken in the first race of the day, where Rubus was made a warm favorite, backed down to even money at post time. Byrne of Roscrea, owned by L. Franchi, and Meditation, owned by J. E. Lane, were coupled in the betting, being from the same stable, and the entry was well supported at 4 to 1.

well supported at 4 to 1.

Rubus Runs Miserable Race.

Taby Tosa, the gray Le Premier gelding, was heavily played and no youngster in the race falled of support. Ribus carried 1/6 pounds, three more than on her hast out, and whether the slight weight affected her or whether she disliked the weather, it is certain that she ran a miserable race. At no stage was she prominent as a factor, and she finished far back, in strong contrast to her good race of Tuesday.

Byrne of Roscrea proved the winner of the event, getting off in front and staying there. At no stage was he pushed hard, and at the close his stable companion, Meditation, came on and got second money from Royal Athlete. The time was 10%, equaling the time made by Blue Blaze in the closing race of the previous day.

Ed L. won the third race in casy fashion, and old gelding making every post a winning one and keeping his field at a respectful distance throughout. Jake Weber was a hot favorite, being played from 2 to 1 down to even money almost instantly, but the best he could do was second. At the head of the stretch he made a bid for the money, but could never get to Ed L. who won handily. Grantor was third.

South Breeze, well supported at odds ranging from 4 to 6 to 1, was one of the but could never get to Ed L., who won handily, Grantor was third.

South Breeze, well supported at odds ranging from 4 to 6 to 1, was one of the best played horses in the fourth event, and won in a hard drive on the post. The race was noticeable on account of the defeat of albert F. Dewey, who again lost a purse for which he seemed a likely candidate, by being kept too far back in the early stages. The race was the first of the day with a field of any size, and every entry was well played, the crowd evidently believing that some long shot was sure to go through on the closing day. Merely writing up long odds against any horse by the bookmakers was the signal for a heavy play on the animals and legitimate choices seemed to be but slightly favored by the Fourth Race in the Rain.

South Breeze figured as a contender, but the best chance memed to lie with Albert F. Dewey, who was made favorite at 11 to a Just before the third race, spasmodic showers turned into a steady drizzle, mak-ing the surface of the track wet, and when the fourth race was called the course was at least a second and a half slower, the rain having changed into a steady down-tour.

Found, Johnny Huffman's mare, was also well played in the race, and showed her usual speed at the start. Off fairly well, she raced in second position for the early stages, Dewey lying back about fourth or fifth and losing much ground in the early stages. Dewey went up as he rounded the lower turn, passing Found and turning into the stretch in third position. Had his rider brought him down on the outside he would by tried in the countries of the boy tried to send him through between the boy tried to send him through between the leaders. As a consequence, Dewey could not get by and South Breeze, coming strongly from fifth position, won in a hard drive on the post, Oudenarde getting second money, and Dewey finishing a close third.

Prosper Le Gal. John S. Bratton's gray costion.

Prosper Le Gal. John S. Bratton's gray colt, was quite heavily played on the strength of his last race the previous day. He proved a disappointment and finished absolutely last.

Kisme won the last race among frantic yells of encouragement from an army of small bettors who had played the mare. Swordsman was a warm favorite in the race, the distance being to his liking, and his impost of 119 pounds being an easy burden for him. He finished in the ruck, however.

Charles D., whose race of Monday was made the subject of judicial inquiry, finished second, coming fast at the close. The borse showed no tendency to prophimelf at the half and ran his race kindly. Miss Thresa was third.

Crowd for the Last Events.
Considering the threatening weather of the early afternoon and the continued drizale through the day, the attendance was remarkable, being rather more than the average. Patrons of the course seemed to recognize that they would have no other opportunity of witnessing running races here until next spring, and they turned out in force for the occasion. The day was probably the best betting occasion of the week.

out in force for the occasion. The day was probably the best betting occasion of the week.

Horsemen now at the Fair Grounds will scatter in the next few days, although some intend to remain and rest their strings. The special train of ten cars for Louisville will depart this morning, with some of the best stables at the grounds, while others are preparing to ship to the Bennings meeting. It, is the only owner who has decided to go North, apparently, the majority selecting Louisville for their destination. The meeting there will be continued for two weeks, with an extra meeting as long as the weather permits.

Felix Bard in the fifth race yesterday raced in the Fizer colors, the stable having purchased the gelding.

LONG SHOT AT LAKESIDE.

Feature Race Was Reduced by Scratches to Three Starters.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—The feature race at Lakeside to-day, a mile handicap, was reduced by scratches to a three-horse affair. Hermenola at 11 to 5, Haviland at 1 to 2 and Andes at 5 to 1, who finished as named, being the only ones of the nine originals named to go to the post. Haviland and Andes raced each other to pieces, allowing Hermenole to come from behind and win eased up by two and a half lengths. Andes was a very bad third, almost five lengths behind Haviland.

The best race of the day was the third on the card at one mile. Omdurman was best and was lucky to get through on the rail in time to beat Miracle II. a 39-to-1 shot, a head, Weather cool; track fast.

Poor Starting Produced Unexpected Results at Aqueduct.

New York, Oct. 31.—The starting was bad at Aqueduct to-day, and the racescers entered many complaints. There was not one fair start in the six races, and many horses were beaten before they had gone a sixteenth of a mile, to say nothing of those who were actually left at the post. One favorite was successful—Sadducee, in the first-race—but thereafter the first choices went down in startling succession.

Ten of His Horses Sold - Americans Win at Newmarket.

Newmarket, Oct. 31.—The first important step toward the breaking up of William C. Whitney's racing establishment at Heath House was the sale to-day of ten of Mr. Whitney's racers. The Mount Vernon filly fetched the best price-3.290 guineas. Water Shed, the winner of yesterday's Cambridgeshire Stakes, for which Mr. Whitney paid 200 guineas when Mr. Haggin, the Californian, sold a batch of yearlings here, brought 2,000 guineas. Holstein was sold for 2500 guineas. Convamoore for 200 guineas, the Shibboleth filly for 500 guineas, Delacy for 450 guineas and Luke Ward for 450 guineas.

When the racing started to-day the Americans continued their success, which was the feature of yesterday's races.

London (Maher) won the Houghton Handfoap; distance five furiongs and 140 yards.

Game Chick (J. Reiff) won the Dewhurst Plate; distance seven furiongs. Ard Patrick (Maher) finished second, and Snowberry (Jenkins) was third.

Desimoulture (Maher) won a 2-year-old selling plate; distance five furiongs.

King's Courier (Maher) won the Jockey Club Cup; distance two miles, two furiongs and thirty-five yards. Santol was second and William C. Whitney's Eikhorn (J. Mather) finished third.

tremely clever display of boxing and doaging, and managed to escape serious punishment until the closing rounds, when Dieters wore him down and sent him to the floor with a succession of rights and lefts on jaw and mouth.

In the first round Dieters managed to land about three blows, one of which drew blood from Mayfleid's nose. Mayfield sent in several fast swings, which he landed on vital spots, but which failed to affect Dieters. Mayfield landed with his open hand as often as with his fist, and his blows consequently did not disturb Dieters at all.

In the second and third rounds Dieters did some affective punching in the close work, his infighting being fairly good, while Mayfield swings, theugh they often landed, did not disturb the South Sider. The men clinched repeatedly, and in every case Dieters's strength and weight told on his opponent, tiring him.

Mayfield slipped in the fourth round and Dieters fell over him. In the fifth Mayfield got in some good blows, which lacked force, however, while Dieters landed several times in the clinches. Mayfield gave a good exhibition of ducking and dodging in this round. In the sixth and seventh both men showed well, the fighting being fast, alternated with clinches. In the eighth Mayfield became the aggressor for part of the round, landing several blows on Dieters's jaw. Dieters sent in a hard left to the face as the round closed, which staggered Mayfield.

In the ninth round, Dieters, plainly the stronger of the two, rushed Mayfield, breaking down his guard and landing some hard right and left punches on his face and body. He knocked Mayfield down in this round, the latter being off his balance at the time.

In the closing round, Dieters rushed and had all the best of it, landing hard rights and lefts on Mayfield's face and finally breaking down his guard and landing some hard right and left punches on his face and finally breaking down his guard and sending in a succession of rights to the jaw, which send mayfield staggering to the floor. Account of Rain.

The rain yesterday afternoon materially interfered with the practice of the different local teams. At St. Louis University no work was done, Coach Martin Delaney was expected to return late last night, and as yet it is not known whether the line-up will be changed for the McKendree game.

Smith Academy and High School took light practice before the rain rendered the fields wet High School is expecting a hard tattle with Western Military Academy, and is working all its available men in practice. washington University will be without the services of Hope in the game with Vanderbilt. Hope's physician yesterday advised him against playing. The Washington men are confident of defeating Vanderbilt unless the Southern men are much stronger than is reported. Vanderbilt is scheduled to play to-day with the Missouri Tigers, and after the Washington game will go to Lawrence, Kas., to play the Jayhawkers.

The Sophomore Medics of Washington University will line up against the East St. Louis High School to-morrow afternoon at East St. Louis. Johnson of Purdue University will referee the game. Washington will line up as follows: Singer, left end; Patterson, left tackle; Weber, left guard; Cobble, center; Lester, right guard; Keller (captaifi), right tackle; Mayers, right end; Tooker, quarter; Fuller, right half; Freund, left half; Garstang, full back. or Whitaker, quarter: Dwan, right half; Huppert, left half; McNulty, full back.

A noteworthy incident of the mixed practice at Athletic Park yesterday was the place kicking and catching of the Washington men. Kranse and Lehman have assiluously practiced in catching the ball and both are now reasonably sure, having learned how to gauge the kicks. This is a branch of the sport that should not be neglected and those who perfect themselves in it are likely to soon find their reward, as steady men who can catch punts are scarce. Coach Stagg of Chicago, in speaking of this feature, said:

"It is impossible for some people to learn to catch punts with any success. Herschberger is the only really sure man we ever had in the back field who could do it. He was an expert, though. He was absolutely sure of the catch, judged the ball perfectly, and was as clever as they get dodging back with the ball. I think I never saw his equal at catching punis and running them back. He could practically make the punting game a winner by his kicking and carrying back ponts. But he was an exception, I've been looking in vain for his successor since 188."

Metropolitans Win the Nellie Griscom Trophy Without Exertion.

Trophy Without Exertion.

New York, Oct. 31.—Eighteen of the best players on the Woman's Metropolitan Golf Association met the representatives of the Woman's Golf Club League of Philadelphia at the Morris County links to-day for the Nellie Griscom trophy, which goes with the honors in this intercity match. The metropolitan was by far the stronger team and won by a score of 31 holes to 5 boles. Mies Elsie Cassatt was the only abstntee on the Philadelphia side and this gave Miss Willis the match and 3 points by default. Miss Genevieve Hecker, the national champion and leader of the Metropolitan team, surprised everybody by the poor showing shomade in her match with Mrs. Caleb F. Fox, the leader of the visiting team. Mrs. Fox won by four up through steady play. Hiss Hecker, who had been alling for some days past, was completely off her game and very erratic. She topped frequently and her work on the putting greens was not up to her standard by any means. Miss A. P. McNeely was the only other Philadelphian to win a match. She defeated Miss Maud K. Wetmore by 1 up. The only other close contest was that between Miss Goffe and Mrs. Bettle. This pair were all square at the eighteenth holt and the match was halved. To-morrow, on these links, the tie in the class A championship contest in the Meropolitan association will be played, the contending teams being representatives of Baltusrol and Essex county clubs. Mrs. E. A. Manice of Lenox, Masz., will play on the Baltusrol team and Miss Genevieve Hecker, who beat her in the final of the national champlonship, will be the leader of the Essex County team, so that their match will really be a repetition of their meeting for championship honora.

OFF TO PITTSBURG. Burkett and Donovan Shake the Dust

Patsy Donovan and Jesse Burkett, that strangely assorted pair, who are to play on rival teams next year, according to Burkett's statement, got away for Pittsburg over the Vandalia at 11:35 hast night. By Sunday they expect to be settled in their winter quarters.

The pair will get in Pittsburg this evening, and expect to leave for New York tonight, unless Donovan finds some work cut out for him in the Smoky City. They will be met in Pittsburg by Bobby Wallace. In speaking of the offer of players which Barnay Dreyfus is reported to have made, Donovan said:

"It won't take me long to settle that business. We are not in such sore strains as some people make out, and if I call on Dreyfuss it will only be to thank him for his intentions, and tell him that we don't need his help. We'll be here next year, all right. To-day I ordered suits for next year, which certainly proves that we have no intention of going out of business for awhile yet."

Burkett still maintains that he is irrevocably lost to the Robisons, but Donovan has by no means given up hope of retaining to the colories.

the King of Swat and Wallace. Donovan will likely return for a short visit after the holidays, as he probably will have to come to Cincinnati when the attachment sult of the Dayton club against St. Louis is heard. Burkett will rejoin his family in Worcester, Mass. Donovan will winter at his home in Lawrence, Mass.

GETTING TEAM INTO FORM.

Coach Stillman Puts His Players
Through Hard Practice.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New Haven, Conn., Oct 3L.—Head Coach
Stillman sent the 'varisty and college elevens through an hour and a half of hard work, and an hour of it in secret to-day.

Neither side was able to score. New plays were tried to the satisfaction of the coachers. New variations of the "tackle-back" play and several formations were tried.

The effect of the practice was seen in a big cut in Chadwick's nose; another over Bloomer's left eye. Hogan limped very hadly, and several of the other players bore evidences of a hard game.

Cambridge, Mass, Oct. 31.—The reports from the practice behind the fences to-day were very little more encouraging than yesterday. The men still are unable to hang on to the ball, and the plays are run off very slowly. All of the cripples have returned to the same except Robitseen, the big guard, who will not be allowed to play again this year. In the thirty-five-minute half, which was played, the 'varsity sorted only one touchdown.

Looks Bad for Quakers.

Looks Rad for Quakers.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3L—The gates of Franklin Field were sgain closed to the public to-day, and the Quakers practiced in secret the plays with which they hope to surprise Columbia and Harvard.

After some swift preliminary practice the 'varsity lined un with the scrubs. The early part of the game showed the acosolute weakness of the 'varsity's defense. Time and again the scrub pushed through for yards, but was unable to score, because of fumbling at critical moments. When the 'varsity got the ball, however, it could not do better. On the whole, the day's practice was discouraging.

Mack Gets Best of McGowan. A good crowd was out last night to witness the match between E. C. Mack and "Skaggs" McGowan in the French pool tournament at the Brondway. Mack was in excellent form, and his combinations were the feature of the match. He won easily by getting four in a row after the first four games had been played to an even break. A J. McWeeny and C. Croghan will be the contestants in to-night's game.

PURSUED CAR TO SAVE CHILD. Mrs. Walsh's Exciting Chase to Rescue Her Daughter.

In an endeavor to rescue her 3-year-old daughter from a perilous position, Mrs. J. E. Walsh of No. 1826 Bacon street had an exciting chase after a street car yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Walsh and her daughter Bernice were riding west to their home in Bernice were riding west to their home in a Spring avenue car on North Market street. As they approached Bacon street Mrs. Walsh signaled for the car to stop.

When the car came to a standstill Mrs. Walsh stepped off and turned, expecting her daughter to follow. But Bernice's dress caught on the hand rail and she could not alight. The conductor meantime, had signaled the motorman to go ahead, and the car started forward with a lurch.

Seeing her daughter standing on the bottom step with the car running, Mrs. Walsh became much excited and started in pursuit. She ran about 100 feet when she fell in a faint, bruising herself about the face and the right arm. When the car was finally stopped Bernice was lifted from her dangerous position unhurt and restored to her mother, who took her home.

JIM A BIG SURPRISE.

If the Champion Carries Out His Intention of Mixing Things He Invites Defeat.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. San Francisco, Oct. 21.—W. W. Naughton, in discussing the coming prize fight be-tween Jeffries and Ruhlin, says:

"Jeffries will be the favorite in his championship fight with Gus Ruhlin; this is a foregone conclusion. The only question is, How much of a favorite will he be? A

How much of a favorite will he be? A month ago many shrewd sports held the view that Jeffries would go to the post a 3-to-1 first choice. As is the case in all important glove contests, opinions are changing somewhat as the evening of the event draws near.

"A few days ago, a bet of $500 against $500 on Jeffries was offered and quickly taken. Opinions are very much divided now as to whether Jeffries money will be plentiful at that figure on the evening of the fight.

"In betting on men, as well as on horses, every little circumstance is noted by investors. Those who thought Jeffries a safe man to wager 3 to 1 on based their opinions on past performances. Much stress was laid on the fact that e whipped Fitssimmons handly, without incurring any punishment to speak of, while the Cornishman, a year later, put Ruhlin to steep after a whirtwind battle.

after a whirlwind battle.

Conditions Are Changed Somewhat.

"Now the fight fans around town are digging deeper into details. They are instancing that Jeffries maintained his guncarriage attitude throughout the whole of his go with the Cornishman and allowed Fitzsimmons to do the forcing. Fitzsimmons was the champion; Jeffries the novice. Fitzsimmons considered that, as champion of the world it was his place to admons was the champion; Jeffries the novice. Fitzsimmons considered that, as champion of the world, it was his place to advance to the breastworks and fight like a fiend from the first tap of the bell.

"Now it is all different. Jeffries has the title, and he has declared within a week that he will sail into Ruhlin and mix it up from the start. It is this declaration of intention from Jeffries that is making sports wonder how much of a favorite he will be Ruhlin, it is remembered, falls very little short of Jeffries in strength and stature, and has proved in many a bitterly waged mill that close fighting is his forte.

First Good Panch May End Battle.

"When two great husky bruisers like these go to mixing it merrily, the first well-directed punch may end the whole business. In fast fighting, individual speed counts for a good deal, of course, but the element of luck also enters into the affair to a large extent. The championship rings of the past are paved with reputations that were shattered by a lucky punch.

"Ruhlin himself is in high feather regarding Jeffries's announcement that he intends to wade in and give smash for smash. Ruhlin believes he will defeat the champion surely in a game of that character. From Harbin Springs it is learned that Jeffries is in rare fettle and that the close of each day's training finds him without ache or pain."

Billy Delaney, who came to San Francisco last night on a flying trip, said this morning:

"Everything is going along nicely. I am

"Everything is going along nicely, I am pleased to state the big fellow never trained so well in his life. We are all up in the air with joy. He has cut out most of his road work, and I wish the fight was to take place to-night."
